ECO TOK COMMAND AND CONTROL

In our economics integrated TOK class, we had an open forum on real-world issues (RWI). Discussing and pondering on the two questions:

“To what extent do command and control regulations contravene civil liberties and human rights?

Does the world of politics try to resolve problems that other areas can't solve?”

We shared views based on the real-life economic issues faced by the Indian society, like demonetization, Agneepath, and the possible nexus between Mr.Ambani and the Ruling power for profit. The 12 TOK concepts like certainty, culture, evidence, explanation, interpretation, justification, objectivity, perspective, power, responsibility, truth, and values were applied to these issues with a focus on problem and benefit (both personal and political).

Arguments limited to the areas of knowledge (AOK)

Economics and politics.

Through this activity, we were able to convey and express our standpoint, do research and analyse the problems, its conflict, benefit and solution. Having focused on the entertainment industry and the social media till date, the open forum gave me an insight into the power dynamics of the Ruling power, the Ambanis and the current issues. Though detached with politics and current affairs of the state, this discussion led me to realize the importance of involving myself In understanding the problems faced by the citizens and caring to work for the benefit of the society as I am its future.

CAS - CREATIVITY SESSION ORIGAMI

We had a Math integrated CAS session where I made 3D origami figures. Math is used for making 3D objects as basic geometry is required to construct creases in a plane.

The creative and active part before us was to fold the papers in a way that could create the desired object. Through initiative planning and working collaboratively with the team mates, my group made a tetrahedron (a basic 3D pyramid). The challenge I faced in this activity were inaccurate folding angles and locations, and through reflecting on them I gained the skills of showing perseverance, precision and commitment.

INTERNATIONAL YOGA DAY

International Yoga day was celebrated on 21 st June 2022 to embrace the physical, mental and spiritual essence of yoga which originated in ancient India. It was celebrated all over India with wide publicity to promote the importance of physical exercise and balance of mind. Yoga over the recent years is gaining popularity all over the world which is our pride. Tipsian's celebrated by performing yoga collectively on the school ground. Students were questioned about the benefits of yoga and interacted with teachers. Posters were made to create awareness about the day to motivate everyone from children to teenagers to learn about the delightful experience of performing yoga. We realized the importance of 'a sound mind in a sound body.'
